

PRIVATE EQUITY PANEL

September 21, 2011

Join us for a lively panel discussion involving three very impressive private equity experts as they discuss:

WHAT'S GOING ON WITH PRIVATE EQUITY?

Moderator Mark Greenberg, Silverstone Advisors LLC, will keep the momentum going throughout what promises to be a timely and informative session, so come with your questions and leave knowing where the private equity market in the Midwest is heading.

Ken Berryman, Director of the Louisville Office of CapitalSouth Investments is a private equity firm that makes a full range of junior capital investments in lower middle-market companies throughout the US. CapitalSouth has completed more than 65 transactions over the past 13 years and currently has more than $600 million in assets under management.

Sean Ward, Partner at Blue Point Capital Partners has over 20 years of experience investing equity in middle market companies. Prior to joining Blue Point in 1990, Sean held various positions within KeyCorp, including Investment Banking and Credit Administration. During his time with the group, Sean has worked on both industrial and business services transactions, domestically and internationally. He currently serves as a director of Area Wide Protective, Floral Plant Growers and LineStar Services.

Scott Lutzke, Founding Partner from Centerfield Capital Partners founded Centerfield Capital Partners in 1998 with Tom Hiatt. He has more than 30 years of experience in private equity, investment banking, international banking and corporate banking. Prior to forming Centerfield, Scott headed several corporate banking divisions focused on providing financial services to over 300 middle market corporate clients.
